

2008 ROCK CLIMBING, ROPE USE AND RESCUE SEMINAR

Enjoy the challenge of high mountain travel, especially cross-country travel, with confidence in your safety because we have imparted to you our first hand knowledge of rock climbing, rope use and rescue techniques. Your judgment and skills will be sharpened and your knowledge of safe and effective practices will allow you to expand the list of places you can travel in the great outdoors.

This High Adventure Seminar provides a direct opportunity for practice in the use of rope when belaying and in rescue techniques. The program begins with an indoor training workshop at 7:00 pm, Monday 14 April 2008 at the Los Angeles School Police Department Headquarters, 1330 W Pico Blvd, LA, CA 90015. On Friday night, 2 May 2008 we will establish a base camp in Joshua Tree National Park for our field experience on 3, 4 May. Successful graduates receive a colorful High Adventure Seminar patch for rock climbing, rope use and rescue. If interested, send the application below to the Council Service Center.
